

Leviticus 11-15 Bible Study

Objective: This study guide explores the detailed laws and practices described in Leviticus 11-15 through the interdisciplinary lens of Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, Mathematics, and Social Studies (STEAMS). By examining these chapters, participants will gain insights into the importance of health and community in the context of Israelite life. This method bridges the biblical text with broader fields of study, fostering a deeper appreciation of scripture and its implications.

Key Components

Science (S): The Natural World and Creation

- ❖ Topic:
Investigate the biological characteristics of the animals labeled as clean and unclean (e.g., split hooves, chewing the cud) in Leviticus 11. Explore potential health benefits or risks of consuming these animals.
- ❖ Project:
Research one clean and one unclean animal mentioned in Leviticus 11. Create a comparative report on their dietary habits, habitats, and any health-related impacts of consuming their meat.

Technology (T): Food Preparation and Preservation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ❖ Topic: Examine how the dietary laws may have influenced food preparation and preservation practices in ancient Israel. ❖ Project: Develop a simple infographic illustrating preserved foods deemed clean.
Engineering (E): Safe Food Practices	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ❖ Topic: Analyze how the dietary laws in Leviticus 11:1-47 might have contributed to food safety and public health in the Israelite community. ❖ Project: Design a model or flowchart showing how these laws could be applied in modern food safety standards.
Mathematics (M): Analyzing Biblical Measurements	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ❖ Topic: Categorize the animals mentioned in Leviticus 11 and analyze the proportions of clean to unclean animals. ❖ Project: Create a bar graph or pie chart that visually represents the types of animals (e.g., land, water, air) and their classifications as clean or unclean.

Social Studies (SS): Historical and Cultural Context

- ❖ Topic:
Study the historical and cultural significance of the laws in Leviticus 11-15, particularly their impact on community health and religious practices.
- ❖ Project:
Create a mock Q&A how similar laws or principles of cleanliness have influenced societies throughout history, including modern public health policies.
